Designation

Up to 1926

SMLE Mk III or Mk III*

Post 1926

Rifle No.1 Mk III or Mk III*

.22 No.2 Mk IV* was the only .22 SMLE made at Lithgow.

Serial Numbers

Normally stamped on receiver ring (where barrel screws in) and on R/H side of barrel knob form. Also can be found on flat on rear of bolt, on noscap bayonet boss, under back sight leaf and on front underside of forewood.

Assembly Number can be found on the stock and on the rear top face of the receiver socket beside the cocking piece (special purpose rifles use this number as they do not have a normal serial number). Up until the beginning World War II bayonets were often serial numbered to the rifle with the number stamped on the pommel.
